

Contents

7	Abbreviations
9	Introduction
25	Chapter 1
	Blurring terminology
26	Lethal autonomous weapons systems
54	Differentiated responsibilities of the war industry under international law
65	Chapter 2
	International humanitarian law-related targeting rules and LAWS
65	(Un)limited development of weapons
77	Prohibition of superfluous injury or unnecessary suffering
83	Principle of distinction and the potential prohibition of indiscriminate LAWS
88	Proportionality in autonomous targeting
94	Military necessity as a non-justification for using LAWS
99	Chapter 3
	Transparency in LAWS
100	Weapons review. Evasive point for protection against LAWS
119	Export control
125	Chapter 4
	State responsibility
126	Premises of state responsibility
127	Using LAWS – does it violate state obligations?
139	Attribution of AI performance to a state
145	Outsourcing LAWS as aid or assistance in a breach of state obligation
150	LAWS in redress – preclusions to state responsibility
157	Claiming compensation for the effects of LAWS as an inherent element of statehood

171	Chapter 5
	War crimes – the worst but primary response to using LAWS in armed conflicts
172	Premises of criminal responsibility for war crimes
175	Threshold of an armed conflict in a remote environment
179	Using LAWS as actus reus of a war crime
186	Error or mistake in software – lack of mental element?
193	Modes of war crimes
195	‘I decide’ on attack – commander’s responsibility
202	‘I control’ software – direct perpetration in cooperation with another person
205	‘I program’ software used by another person
206	‘I belong to a team’ developing LAWS
214	‘We jointly plan’ to use LAWS
215	What if I am released from criminal responsibility
223	Chapter 6
	Business responsibilities for LAWS
224	Idiosyncrasy of the LAWS market
233	Approaches to business responsibility for LAWS
235	Corporate criminal responsibility
243	Corporate civil liability
247	Corporate social responsibility and due diligence
257	Concluding remarks
269	References
269	Treaties
271	Resolutions, reports and other documents of bodies of international organizations and other institutions
279	International, military and hybrid courts and tribunals
284	Domestic law
286	Domestic case-law
289	Literature
318	Websites
321	Index of Names
323	Summary
325	Streszczenie